WOMEN ARTISTS of the WEST

Women Artists of the West (WAOW) is a non-profit organization of over 270 juried members across the United States and Canada with the objectives of uniting women artists, elevating awareness of art created by women and encouraging technical excellence. WAOW supports members through education, workshops, and mentoring with a focus on encouraging both emerging and established artists in business and professional practices. WAOW members are publicly promoted through national advertising, exhibitions, web and social media. It is the oldest established organization dedicated to women artists in the nation; we are honored to be celebrating 45 years of exhibitions with this year's national exhibit in Tucson.

Our Beginnings as Women Artists of the American West

Women Artists of the American West (WAOAW) was founded in 1971 in Norco, California by a small group of women with a desire to network as professionals and compete in the world of art. They pooled their efforts and began promoting their careers with shows and advertising. WAOAW soon became known for its high caliber of artists and distinctive western style.

Their debut exhibit was held in Palm Springs, California. They continued to show in locations such as the Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Fort Worth, Texas, in Las Vegas, Nevada, and then on to other areas of the country including New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Mississippi, and Arizona. In these early years, the membership was limited to 35, each of whom played an active role, investing time and money in shows and advertisements to promote their professional growth. Eventually the decision was made to increase membership in order to support the increasing demands for financing and coordinating the group's activities.

WAOAW artists were known for their western pieces in various media. However, as many women artists in non-western genres wanted to become a part of the group's legacy, in 1988 the bylaws were changed to embrace additional genre, subject matter and style. The membership chose to drop "American" from their name and became what is known today as Women Artists of the West.

Women Artists of the West as it is Today

Women Artists of the West (WAOW) is a unique and respected organization that continues to grow and increase its presence in the art world.

WAOW has evolved over the years in its decades of supporting and promoting art created by women. Within the realm of fine art, there is a variety of genres and themes from members across the nation. WAOW members create both in their indoor studios and en plein air. They paint and sculpt still life and floral, landscapes and seascapes, figures and portraits, ranch and rural life, traditional and contemporary west, wildlife and domestic animals, historical events and Native American subjects. Styles are varied and diverse and include impressionism, expressionism, realism, representational and contemporary in all fine art media in two and three dimensions.

WAOW has long been dedicated to helping aspiring artists in the spirit of mentoring, and many of its members share their expertise through workshops and books and, for the members' proprietary benefit, an online forum for art tips and extended discussions.

The common thread of WAOW artists is the passion for their work and the desire to express the joy and beauty of the world around them. During the organization's existence, WAOW members have collectively made their mark on the art world. They have done this as a team of professionals, with plans to continue the journey together.

The fine artwork of various genres and mediums in this exhibition has been through a stringent selection process, Members are initially juried to become a WAOW member and then must submit work to a seven member blind jury for acceptance into the national exhibition. We are very pleased and proud to present the work of these outstanding, talented members of WAOW in our 45th National Exhibition.

The 45th National Exhibition Show Juror of Awards--Carol Swinney

Wyoming artist Carol Swinney paints with a palette knife instead of a brush for many reasons. “I love texture, and love to see a lot of paint on the canvas. A painting knife gives rich colors and amazing depth, like you’re sculpting a painting”, she says. “Contrast, composition and lighting capture my attention while on location so I paint when colors are rich and light is more dramatic.”

Swinney prefers to paint on location at such places as Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado, the mountains near Tucson, Arizona, or the Grand Teton Mountains in Wyoming.

Carol has received over 33 awards from 2005 to 2015 including two Best in Shows, four People’s Choice awards, Best Landscape at the 2005 National Oil Painters of America Show, the Award of Excellence at the 2008 OPA Western Regional Show, and the 2013 RMPAP Plein Air for the Parks, and the Governor’s Choice Award at the 2010 Cowgirl Up! Art from the Other Half of the West Show. She has had numerous one woman shows and museum exhibitions including the National Museum of Wildlife Art, the Gilcrease Museum, the Briscoe Museum of Western Art, the CM Russell Museum, the Desert Caballeros Western Museum, the Old West Museum, the Booth Western Art Museum and the Clymer Museum. She is in the permanent collection of The Amerind Museum & Grand Teton National Park.

Carol has been featured in a wide variety of notable magazines including American Artist, Western Art Collector, Art of the West, and Southwest Art and was most recently profiled in Plein Air Magazine. Her work is also included in the coffee-table book, Art of the National Parks: Historic Connections, Contemporary Interpretations and the instructional book, How Did You Paint That? published by International Artist.

Carol is an Out of State Artist Member of the California Art Club, Founding Member of Rocky Mountain Plein Air Painters, a Signature Member of the Tucson Plein Air Painters, Outdoor Painters Society and Oil Painters of America and is a Master Signature Member and past President of American Woman Artists. She is represented in fine galleries in Jackson, Tubac and Colorado Springs.

Women Artists of the West thank Carol for her time, expertise and willingness to serve as the WAOW Awards Juror.

*The common thread of WAOW artists is the passion
