Figures can add scale as well as interest in a landscape painting.

Sometimes they tell a story. Amy Evans, a nationally known oil painter, will guide you in this 2 1/2 day workshop covering basic gestural poses in order to add them to a landscape painting.

Basic painting skills and a working knowledge of the students chosen medium are required. This workshop is for oil, watercolor or acrylic painting. The instructor will provide reference photos but students are also welcome to bring their own. Check the website for the supply list.
